Jl. Bengkulu No 53, Gunung Sari, Bandar Lampung, Lampung, 35111

I am a Software Engineer with a Bachelor's degree in Informatics Engineering from Institut Teknologi Sumatera. I specialize in Full-Stack Web Development, focusing on designing, developing, and maintaining scalable web applications and robust API systems. My work involves ensuring seamless integration between front-end interfaces, back-end logic, and database layers to deliver efficient, high-performance solutions. I am proficient in modern web technologies and frameworks such as Next.js, React.js, and Express.js, as well as in managing relational databases using SQL and Prisma ORM for streamlined data interactions.
